FAITH IN AMERICA FIRST

Hitler Invasion Bugaboo Exploded by La Follette

"Keep the U. S. Out of War"

"Britain Knows Not Meaning of Democracy", Says Judge Kelly

Philip LaFollette, former governor of Wisconsin, addressed a well filled Russ auditorium on Thursday night, saying things which previously were only whispered in San Diego against the Roosevelt administration and the rape of the nation for the profit of Great Britain.

Col. George Fisher, organization president of the San Diego chapter of the America First Committee introduced LaFollette. But first he gave the floor to that well known Irish independent, Judge E. J. Kelly, who spoke his own mind about the reason why the Irish people refuse to fight for England or even let its ports be used against the Nazis. "I am trying to uphold a sense of independence in the face of British propaganda", said Kelly. "We are being led to war on behalf of a country that does not know the meaning of democracy. England has at least 300 million slaves in its colonies and a large class of economically suppressed people in England itself."

3 Cents Weekly Investment

"President Roosevelt respects public opinion. If all of you who oppose going to war for England would spend 3c each week from now on till the war is over, to hold a weekly fireside chat with President Roosevelt and tell him what you think about his activities embroiling us in the war, you can rest assured those letters are read and the President is guided by prevailing public sentiment if made strong enough", said LaFollette. Other poignant statements punctuated his address.

There are millions and millions of Americans who do not want this country involved in war. The President pushes us into war and so does that great crusader, the leader of the opposition (meaning Willkie; the audience roared with laughter). Regardles of Dr. Gallup's polls, where he claims to have interviewed the American people, Americans do not want war. I have travelled from coast to coast and still have not found one person who was interviewed by Dr. Gallup, but even he says that 45% are against war.

America is supposed to be the arsenal of democracy, I don't agree with that view. When Duff-Cooper came to America and was asked what he hoped would happen in Europe to save England, the minister of British propaganda said: "A rightist revolution that would restore the monarchy". So after we spend 50 billion dollars to fight the Kaiser to save the world for democracy, buried our boys in Flanders, Duff-Cooper hopes to get him back to "save England".

The frontiers of democracy are right here in America. But a handful of people own the whole economic machinery and refuse to overhaul it that the new energies which have increased 50 fold during the last century may find an outlet. They are sitting on the old boiler, the fire is getting hotter and if nature has its course, the boiler will blow up and all of us with it, unless we change the machinery.

The 1940 campaign was a fixed fight, but they could not fix all of the people. The truth comes out and by drafting the young men who know all this, you cannot make good soldiers of them to fight for England.

The war party tells us that one million German soldiers with 10,000 tanks, 20 million trucks, gasoline, airplane and repair parts, with all the commissary lines intact from Germany to Dakar, Africa, will embark from there, land in Brazil, conquer the country, walk through the jungle and the swamps, scale the mountain ranges and arrive at the Rio Grande to conquer 130 million Americans, before we ever hear a thing about it.

Let your local editor read the London Times, or even the New York Times of Jan. 20 and 21 where Robert Post reported that the British say that if America regards them as their first line of defense, then Americans are doing to the British what they did to us when they hired Hessians to fight us during the wars of independence. Somebody is being tragically fooled. Either the British are fooled if we do not fight for them or the millions of Americans are fooled if all these preparations mean that we must send our men overseas. But if you fool millions of Americans you will pay a price for it. The price will be very high. There is blood and sorrow ahead of us.

Not by hiring Hessians, but by pledging their honor, their substance and their lives (read the last paragrph of the Declaration of Independence) did our forefathers win freedom. That is the only way to independence, not by lease-lending to Britain and using them as our Hessians. If its our war lets fight it, if its not, lets not rob the country for British profit.

The London Times in the month of Sept., 1940, had an editorial stating that Britain's greatest mistake was the assumption that its frontiers lay on the Rhine, when it took refuge behind the Maginot line. The frontiers were in Britain. First she should have put her own house in order and improved her own economic machinery in place of keeping half a million people on the dole, destroying their creative impulses. In Britain and America these conditions exist because those who have great economic power refuse to allow opportunities for people to do productive work.

After we bankrupt ourselves (soon the debt will be raised to 75 billions) England is not going to sit up nights worrying how to improve our economic conditions at their own expense, as we are doing for them today. In the spring of 1939 England signed an economic pact with Adolf Hitler at Duesseldorf; (mind you, Hitler, the Nazi) against us to undermine our South American trade. Both countries were to use tax monies to subsidize their respective Latin American exports to cut that market out from under us. The pact was published in the London Economist of March 25, 1939. Mr. Stanley, the English minister for trade, complained when Hitler invaded Czechoslovakia: "I regret that we have to set the Duesseldorf agreement aside for the time being, for political reasons". They will take it up again as soon as peace is made.

I have crossed the nation, looked into the faces of our men in camps and factories. Anybody who says that we must rely on England to protect us, is crazy, is lying. We have the men, we have the means, we have the spirit to defend our own America. We must keep faith with America and Americans, we must look towards the future and not fight for a lost cause like Duff-Cooper who wants to put the Kaiser back. Let's put America back to work at the real job of increasing our opportunities for all to earn a living and be independent of England, that we may meet her competition which is bound to come as it did after the last war. The most unpopular thing today is to be pro-Americans. But we must put faith in America first.

A YOUNG DOCTOR'S PROBLEM

CHICAGO,— Being a native born citizen and subject to the draft, it was my privilege to fill out a questionnaire offering my services when called. When that day comes it will be necessary for me to turn the key in my office door, step out of my sole means of building for the future, and serve my country as best I can.

Now, what have our government and the American Medical asociation done to make firm our place in our comunities when we return? They have allowed refugee doctors to come into this country by the hundreds. Will they enlist or be drafted? O, no, they are aliens and will only be registered and fingerprinted and permitted to stand as big "Vienna specialists", and when we poor boobs get back we have nothing but a dusty office and a stack of bills to be paid.

My case is by no means unique; it applies to all men who have their own business and are subject to the draft. The price of patriotism, it seems to me, is a bit costly, when such a situation is allowed to get started with no protection for a true American when he returns, so my answer to "Can America Be Invaded?", is that the invasion is well on its way. —M. D.

Printer's Note—Yes the invasion is well on its way by the Jewish refugees and aided by their Jewish friends in this country—wouldn't that kinda make these America Jews "Fifth Columnists"? Draft these Jewish refugees, too, they should have stayed over in Europe and help fight "for the democratic spirit" they claim to foster so much.

They Are In The Army Now

May Delay End Of Duty for Guard Units

WASHINGTON,—Members of the house military committee expressed belief that national guard units now on active duty would be held in service beyond the 12-month period originally planned, if the international situation continued to be critical.

The year of service will be up in September for some guard units, but Andrews (R-NY), senior minority member of the committee, asked "if the situation is as critical in August or September as at present who would send the guards home?"

Chairman May (D-Ky) said, however, he had received no request from Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, or anyone else in the war department for legislation to extend the guard's service.

Chickens Come Home To Roost

And now we are going to reap our karma. Incidentally, karma played a big part in this election. You have heard about the 'Solid South' voting the Democratic ticket. That is a national karmic debt for having brought the negro slaves to America. The bitterness engendered in the South by the Civil War and the liberation of the slaves, still lives in their hatred of the Republican party, whose birth was an outgrowth of abolitionist sentiment. So the South is not American; it is tied up to a party, right or wrong, and theirs is not an intelligent vote.

Vice President Garner did not vote, because he could not conscientiously vote the Democratic ticket. He had enough decency to be ashamed of what he had done in helping to put over the New Deal. If Garner had been a real American and challenged Roosevelt, Roosevelt would never have put over his program. The same is true of Jim Farley, But these men are symbols of degeneracy.—Beacon Light, Atascadero, California.

He'll take his Money

He had broken the law and things looked rather black for him.

His solicitor listened in silence as the man told him the full story.

"A difficult case," he said at last.

"I know the evidence is strongly against my innocence," said the man, "but I have $10,000 to fight the case with."

"Well," said the solicitor confidently, "as your solicitor, I can assure you that you'll never go to prison with that amount of money."

Corporal (at dance): "Do you see that ugly sap of an officer over there? He's the meanest egg I ever saw!"

She: "Do you know who I am? I'm that officer's daughter."

Corporal: "Do you know who I am?"

She: "No."

Corporal: "Thank God!"

PEACE

The word of the hour is peace
It echoes the world around;
It whispers that war must cease,
Become as an empty sound.

Let us each, then, do our part,
Let us speak this word of the hour;
Let it pass from heart to heart.
For the spoken word is power.

WHERE IS THE FLAG OF ENGLAND?

By Henry LaBouchere

And the Winds of the world made answer:
North, South, and East and West;
Wherever there's wealth to covet;
Or land that can be possessed;
Wherever there are savage races
To seize, coerce and scare
You will find the vaunted ensign,
For the English flag is there.

Aye, it waves o'er the blazing hovels,
Where African victims fly,
To be shot by explosive bullets;
Or to wrechedly stare and die;
And where the beach-combers harries
On the isles of the southern sea,
At the peak of this hellish vessel
'Tis the English flag flies free.

The Maori oft has cursed it
With his bitterest dying breath
And the Arab has hissed his hatred
As he spits at its folds in death.
The helpless Fellah has feared it
On Tel-el-Kebir's parched plain;
And the Zulu's blood has stained it
With a deep indelible stain.

Where is the flag of England?
Seek the land where the natives rot;
Where decay and assured extinction
Must soon be the people's lot.
Go search for the once glad island,
Where disease and death are rife,
And the greed of a callous commerce
Now fattens on human life.

Where is the flag of England?
Go, sail where rich galleons come,
With shoddy and leaded cottons,
And beer, and bibles, and rum.
Go too, where brute force has triumphed,
And hypocrisy makes its lair,
And your question will find its answer,
For the English flag is there.

British Army Pay

A private in the British army gets 40 cents a day and the commander in chief gets $40 a day. According to their rank, a sergeant gets $1.50, lieutenant, 4; captain, $5; major, $8; colonel, $12; and major general, $20. An army chaplain receives $17 a day.

Other People's Money

OPM is the alphabetical designation of the new defense production body at Washington, and some skeptics are already asking if it means Other People's Money.

Aunty: "And how did Jimmy do with his history examination?"

Mother: "Oh, not at all well, but it wasn't his fault! Why they asked about things that happened before he was born!"

Jewish Super-Totalitarian World Government

BERNARD BARUCH TELLS IT ALL

The editorial policy of the San Diego UNION as well as the makeup of its editorial writer, is well nigh the despair of professors of psychology. But it does not puzzle a sunworshiper, a Parsee initiate or student of the Ancient Wisdom; for the explanation is exceedingly simple: The mental processes of every human being parallel his organic processes. Take a person who is "kind to animals" but butchers them for food while the world abounds in all the necessary products of the vegetable kingdom to keep him in opulence; take a person who would never pour water into the gasoline tank of his car and expect good performance of the carburetor, but the same person ignores the simplest rules of natural living and when the headache comes takes drugs, smokes, drinks liquors, consumes aspirins instead of improving his method of living; take such an individual and you find that his "religion" tells him the virtue of Christianity is fair play, the Golden Rule, faith in the power of God above violation of the laws of God and nature, still he places his faith in brutality and armed force rather than in intelligence all the way.

The explanation is simple, we have presented it time and again to show the causes which make for poverty, misery and crime with wars on a planet full with opportunites for a paradise; but, of course, human beings, being what they are, have to wade through rivers of blood and fratricide to awaken thru suffering to the realization that they must return to the rule of God on earth, before they will apply their energies for their own good. And in the meantime they must take the consequences.

In last Thursday's edition of the UNION appears a complete disclosure of the Jewish superstate which is to rule the world, as outlined by Bernard Baruch himself, one of the high initiates of Judah's plan to rule the world. This is how the UNION analyzes it:

Trading for What?

BERNARD BARUCH, in one of his rare interviews, yesterday expressed the belief that the United States can, without firing a shot, save Great Britain and defeat Germany. That part of his interview doubtless brought down loud applause which may have drowned out details of the plan by which he proposed to do it. Which is unfortunate, for when the whole picture is laid out and his solution is analyzed, even casually, it becomes difficult to see what advantage there would be in defeating a system of government, only to adopt it ourselves, which is about what the Baruch plan amounts to.

Mr. Baruch looks far beyond the actual combat stage of the war and sees the necessity of our flooding the world markets with our goods at prices far below those which the Nazis are able to charge. As an example, he cited a product which Germany might be able to sell for $18 and proposes that we sell it for $16, applying the same schedule all down the line of export materials. To do that, of course, the government would have to have rigid control—as rigid as any Germany exercises—over every phase of our economic, political and social life. It would mean, as he points out, that labor, price levels, production, distribution, consumption, capital investment and foreign trade all would be under the strictest government control and regulation. Private industry would, in effect, vanish. And with it would go individual rights, the incentive for personal initiative and ambition. It would be difficult to conceive a more nearly complete abandonment of American principles and methods than that which Mr. Baruch has advocated.

At the same time, Mr. Baruch suggests that this possibly can be done under the democratic system, with congress retaining a check on executive actions and thus preventing unnecessary abuses of power. Perhaps it might, but the possibility of its being successful is about as strong as would be an attempt by the Nazis to retain their totalitarian system by adopting a democratic constitution, electing their officials and restoring free speech and a free press.

If one is to follow Mr. Baruch's proposal to its conclusion, it cannot help but bring up the question: If we are trying, as we say we are, to save the democratic way of life, why do we have to abandon it and adopt precisely the same system as that used by the foes of that system? If the democratic way of life is superior, why destroy it?

Mr. Baruch is correct in his analysis of America's potential strength as being "far more potent than anything the world has ever seen". What enabled this country to reach that position? Certainly not a totalitarian government that now is proposed.

No totalitarian country ever even approached our abundance. Totalitarianism is, if the examples it has set are to be accepted as correct, the last resort of a bankrupt nation. To say that our economic strength is "more potent than anything the world has ever seen" and then to urge our adoption of totalitarianism is an inconsistency of the first water.

We are in the war as an "arsenal of democracy". We are an ally of Great Britain because we believe that England comes nearer upholding our concept of the free way of life than any other nation. We are in it to produce the things that our way of life has made us capable of producing; to exert the power that no other nation has been able to generate. And the only way we have been able to do this has been under a democratic system.

The examples of Russia, Germany and Italy have shown clearly that there is no essential difference between them. They are all totalitarian; they are all oppressive; they are all tyrannies. And we would be no different, in the effect upon our people, if we adopted the totalitarian ideology, no matter what we might choose to call it.

The Protocols of Zion

The peculiar thing about the UNION is the Goyish dumbness of its editor who is such a proverbial sucker. He is sufficently witted to see through the totalitarian scheme which Baruch proposes for America and naturally Baruch the father of the NRA, the AAA and the rest of the Jew deal schemes, is to be the power behind the throne, but the UNION editor fails to connect up this scheme with the Protocols of Zion. Oh, no, he would not do such an outrageous thing; "Everybody knows the Protocols of Zion are a forgery". Are they? They were not so proven at its trial in Switzerland, all the misleading and fact denying Jewish propaganda notwithstanding. Few people know that the Swiss court of the final instance found against the Jewish claim that it was libelous to assert the genuineness of the Protocols, but the Jewish controlled press suppressed these facts.

One does not need to worry about the Protocols, for Mr. Baruch has stated it so plainly even the editor of the UNION recoils from it. Still the poor Goy, which means dumb sucker, does not see the conection between this underselling Germany in the world markets and Hitler's invasion of Austria, Bohemia and Poland. The not see the connection between this underselling regiment America to undersell the world, which means the Axis, non Jewish countries,—that condition had already been materialized in Austria by the Jewish bankers who produced cheap goods at a loss, which was covered from a slush fund to destroy German commerce and industry.

Washington's Vision; America Against the World

The third great slaughter in which the newly formed republic was fighting for its life was described in George Washington's vision as an invasion of the U. S. A. from all sides by all peoples of the world.

The revelations by Mr. Baruch in which he outlined a plan of American regimentation of industry and production to undersell the world, is the very cause foreseen by George Washington, when he described the mortal enmity of the world against US.

If the U. S., having cornered the world's gold, thrown the nation into hopeless debt to finance Baruch's scheme, which is so plain now, continues on its path of regimentation, having succeeded to conscript the youth, and uses the powers of the "commander in chief" to dictate to the rest of the world, naturally, even the South American countries, then, will be forced to join the axis; and believe it or not, even England will make a defensive alliance with the Axis to offset American domination of the world markets. You will yet get the surprise of your lives.

The lease-lend bill placed this nation entirely into the hands of the International Bankers. Since the world's pile of gold and silver has been shifted to the U. S. the Rothschilds will follow their gold and become "good Americans". As in previous feuds between the various Jewish banking concerns, the American bankers will use our resources to get the best of the British bankers and these will join with Russia into an alliance against the U. S. A. Naturally, Russia being tied to the Axis, and America having spread the war to all of Europe, and Africa, suddenly the U. S. will discover that it does not have a friend in the world.

If you doubt what I am saying read again carefully what the S. D. UNION says in its editorial about Baruch's plan. Why close your eyes to the truth?

FILIBUSTER

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 12, 1941)

FRED—Last Monday I read in Paul Mallon's column that there was no filibuster against the lend-lease bill in the senate because not even 10 or 12 senators could be gathered together to agree to speak indefinitely. What does that mean?

DAD—A filibuster is a colloquial term used in Washington when a few senators get together to stop some bill from being enacted by the majority. The minority is determined to prevent a vote on the measure. Each session of the senate there is a filibuster against an anti-lynch law by senators from the south. The south wants to continue to take the law into their own hands and so their senators band together at the end of each session and keep on talking till the session closes and the lynch law gets ditched without being voted on.

FRED—Does it take 10 or 12 senators to filibuster?

DAD—No, Fred. Three young fellows could filibuster any bill to death. In my younger days when I shipped as an able seaman, I used to work four hours on and four hours off. Sometimes for three weeks on stretch. It did not hurt me at all. Now an able bodied senator could certainly speak two hours at a stretch and then rest four hours; in this way three senators could carry on a filibuster for at least three weeks without hurting themselves. And if there were four and five of them they could keep on talking for two and three months and by that time something is bound to happen that would bring out the truth if the majority in the senate was wrong.

FRED—But, daddy, does not the majority rule? Why should a minority oppose the will of the majority?

DAD—Suppose the majority said that 2 and 2 makes five. Would that be the rule?

FRED—But 2 and 2 does not make five, it makes four.

DAD—So you see that if the majority is wrong their being the majority does not make it right. The truth always rules, not the majority. The rule by the majority where it is wrong ruins the whole country and when a few men realize it, then they have not only a right, but it is their duty to keep on talking until they bring out the truth and prevent ruination of their country.

Volume From Piano

Where greater volume is desired from a piano, there should be no carpet under the instrument. This is especially true of a grand, which gives off sound from the underside of its case. Conversely, in a small room a carpet under the piano will soften its tone and keep it from being too loud.

To stop this underselling by Jew dominated Austria, Hitler took Austria. The Jews did the same in Bohemia and later in Poland, Hitler followed them. That started the present war when Jew ruled Britain went to aid the Jews of Poland. And now the U. S. is the arsenal of "democracy" to induce democracy to commit suicide as the UNION so aptly exposes it in its editorial which you can read for yourself.

The UNION said it, not I.

Of course, it would not be domination of the world by Jews; for Mr. Baruch is not a Jew; he is an American. He and Morgenthau.

Telephone Reduction In Long Distance Rates

Aggregating an over-all estimated annual saving to their customers of $800,000, The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company and the Southern California Telephone Company announced that, in compliance with the recent Order of the Federal Communications Commission reducing interstate long distance rates applicable to the telephone traffic between points in the Companys' territory, would be placed in effect March 15, 1941 and at the same time the Companies will make effective the new intrastate reduced toll rates for the longer distances in California as announced by the Railroad Commission of California. The annual savnigs to customers using the interstate service is estimated at $400,000 and a like amount is estimated to accure to the California intrastate users.

International Bankers Control Willkie

On the surface, this Administration seems indifferent to Mr. Willkie's servile antics. But in fact, without according any aspect of offical status, it is doing all that can be done to facilitate the propagandist journey to Europe of Mr. Willkie and his party—Mr. Russell Davenport and one of Mr. Willkie's banker friends.

The house of Morgan—at least as represented by Mr. Thomas W. Lamont—and other great international bankers, are as active in guiding and propelling ourt steps toward involvement in this war as they were in 1917. And suddenly Mr. Roosevelt, himself, seems to be cuddling just as close to them as is Mr. Willkie in the latter's swift and startling change of front.—Gen. Hugh Johnson.

Baruch Guides Roosevelt

WASHINGTON,—One of the most reassuring facts about the defense program is that the administration is now, and has been for some little time, leaning heavily upon Bernard M. Baruch for advice and quiet backstage assistance.

Typical of what Mr. Baruch is doing is his effort to smooth out the snarl which caused Leon Henderson to go to Florida for a long vacation because of his feeling that he was being sidetracked in the defense organization. Through the good offices of Mr. Baruch, efforts are being made to persuade Mr. Henderson to return to Washington and to resume his work in steadying prices, which is one of the most vital jobs of management in the whole program.—Raymond Clapper.

America Must be Bankrupted, Jewish Plan

The S. D. UNION says most aptly: "Totalitarianism is, if the examples it set are to be accepted as correct, the last resort of a bankrupted nation".

Now if the editor of the UNION has any brains at all he knows that he has given his own answer to the Jew Deal in the U. S.

Before this country will be "ripened" for the dictatorship proposed by Bernard Baruch in his recent interview, we will have to be bankrupted first. The Lease-lend bill is that final road to bankruptcy and war that Baruch may rule the U. S. A.

Labor Racket

Labor War Claims Victim

While picket lines have been thrown in front of the Montgomery Ward store because the company refuses to buckle down to the demands of the AFL racketeers, a tragedy took place in front of the Sel-Rite Market, 664 - 12th ave., Sunday, March 6, when young Richard Ryan emerged from a scuffle with the owner of the vegetable stand, Ben Berkouf, with an ice pick sticking in his lung. Let us hope Ryan recovers, as the hospital attaches report that he has a good chance to recover.

This most regretable incident resulted after the market had been picketed for ten weeks. It frayed the nerves and engendered irritation with flaring tempers. Berkouf says that all the other pickets left him alone except Ryan. Each time that Ryan came on the beat he followed Berkouf about, close behind and on accasions whispered: "You are nothing but a damn dirty Jew anyway".

Berkouf then called the police but when the officers arrived, they could find no visible disturbance and since Ryan was standing on the sidewalk they are reported by Berkouf to have said: "Call us after violence has occured, not before". This retort aggravated Berkouf's state of mind, according to his story to our reporter and when Ryan kicked a box of bananas, a fight ensued. Berkouf says that he grabbed the ice pick that was laying on top of a bunch of coconuts which he used to punch with the pick to let the milk out. According to Berkouf, a scuffle ensued over possession of the pick. Berkouf does not remember the details but suddenly he was laying on the ground, with Ryan on top of him and presumably he fell into the pick and hurt himself.

The matter will be decided in court. The police claim there had been no violence previous to the stabbing, from the stories they elicited from Berkouf and his daughter. The latter deny it, saying that Berkouf was too excited to speak coherently and his story might have been misinterpreted at the moment. Whichever way it was will come out in court. The lesson is that the worm sometimes turns and the police should not permit large numbers of pickets to interfer with traffic on the sidewalk. The police admit there were at least 6 pickets picketing one lone Jew, while Berkouf claims there were 20 and it drove him frantic.

• • • •

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 12, 1941)

FRED—I read in the papers where a picket was stabbed on twelfth avenue with an ice pick. What was wrong with them, daddy?

DAD—The police seem to have neglected their duty for some time in San Diego under the impression that labor pickets can do anything they please to picket merchants who refuse to submit to labor union dictation. If the police would see to it that no picket tresspasses on private property to annoy merchants in their own shops such things would not happen. But because pickets imagine they can do anything short of hitting somebody, some of them use bad language and drive people mad.

FRED—What did he say?

DAD—The man that stabbed the picket is a Jew and says that the picket called him bad names because he was a Jew. Being a Jew is no reason for calling a man bad names. I hope the picket recovers and this becomes a lesson to the labor unions and to the police not to permit pickets to annoy merchants and customers. The merchant claims the stabbing was acidental while they were tussling. It goes to show that peaceful picketing must be strictly peaceful and the police should handle this matter with a strong hand to protect the public and prevent such violent reactions from irate citizens.

ACHIEVING COLOR HARMONY

The masters of Grecian art considered color and music to be very similar in that the harmony of both are spoiled by a discordant note. To prevent colors from clashing in any form of painted decoration, the addition of a small quanity of white or black to each color used will aid in bringing about a pleasing degree of harmony.

A little boy did errands for a woman, who baking oatcakes, thought she would give him one as a treat.

She spread one thickly with jam and gave it to him. A little while later the boy returned.

"Thanks for the jam, missus," he said. "There's your board back again."

$3,000 Retainer for Water Counsel

PHIL SWING REPRESENTS FARMERS

The city of San Diego is paying Attorney Phil Swing $3,000 a year retainer to advise the city on all legal matters concerning water litigation and rights as such matters arise. In addition he is to receive $25 and expenses for every day he appears in court on behalf of the city.

At present the city is engaged in litigation with the Coronado Water and Telephone Co. over riparian rights in the Tijuana river watershed. Simultaneously all the farmers in that valley are fighting the Coronado company on the grounds that it is pumping the underground basin to the point where the water table is dangerously lowered to permit salt water from the ocean to seep in. Because the city, as owner of some 105 acres, is involved on the side of the other farmers and riparian owners, Swing received permission from City Attorney Ault to accept the offer of the farmers to represent them in this litigation, while William Macomber, deputy city attorney, represents the city and Swing will not draw $25 from the city for every day in court, but be paid by the farmers.

Some taxpayers of San Diego are not taking kindly to this arrangement claiming that Swing is paid by the city to handle the matter and if there is no conflicting interest between the city and the farmers, Swing could just as well be attorney of record for the city, too, and waive the $25 a day additional fee since he is getting paid by the farmers. Should Swing fail to do so, these taxpayers claim that, this is proof in itself that in future turns the city might litigate against the farmers and for this reason Swing dares not appear for both parties in court.

Attorney Swing assured our reporter that he sees no reason why he could not represent both parties, if this would remove all suspicion of misconduct on his part and negligence of the city attorney in permitting the present situation to arise.

Firemen's Demand Cuts Down Raise For 1400 City Employees

A down-the-line percentage salary increase for San Diego's 1400 municipal employes will be recommended to the city cmivil service commission by Russel T. Bailey, personnel director,

Theoretically, he said, the yet-to-be-determined increase would correspond to the percentage of increase in living costs, but practically, he explained, his recommendation will have to be governed in part by the city's ability to pay.

Original Ranchers Market

$110 Demanded for a $5 License

There are 22 booths at the Farmers Market, 8th & G. The health department demands that each one pay a $5 license fee for inspection. The same floor space occupied by a single concern in one of the large markets pays only $5 for inspection. Why this discrimination against the little fellows who sell their produce only twice a week, while the big fellows are open 6 and 7 days a week? Where is the justice in this demand?

The editor of a country newspaper retired with a fortune. When asked the secret of his success, he replied:

"I attribute my ability to retire with a $100,000 bank balance after 30 years in the newspaper field to close application to duty, pursuing a policy of strict honesty, always practicing rigorous rules of economy, and to the recent death of my uncle, who left me $98,500."

Industrial Harbor Front Ruined

George Marston can be happy. Next he can plant gardenias all along the waterfront from the Marine base down to 28th street. There will be no commercial front there. His Civic Center building drove away development in that region. Now to "take away the tracks" from the civic center, the Santa Fe railroad proposes to build a freight yard all along the harbor from 8th ave. to 28th street and all industrial frontage is to be bottled up for defense purposes, they claim. The road left after this is done will be a 20 foot strip which is absolutely inadequate for modern large trucks. The Benson Lumber company as well as all the others will have to pack up and move east of 28th street.

First they tax us all to develop the harbor and build bulkheads. Then they chase all industry to National City so Marston may grow gardenias.

England's Democracy

Editor, The Broom:

Under Henry the 8th of England they hung men and women for asking for food and burnt them at the stake if they were seen counting their beads in the Catholic faith. Only one witness was required to convict.

Judge Jeffries of the King's Bench later would look at a prisoner and then banish him to Van Demon's Land without any witness, or sentence him to be hung at Newgate as he would feel at the time. When King George III was crowned there were 57 laws in Englanl punishing minor offense with death. This was in Collin's times. They also paid the Indians 50 shillings in silver for scalps taken from the colonists in the Revolution. In the war of 1861 they loaned the Southern Confederacy 500 million dollars, took and sank our merchant ships, was caught doing it at the close of the war and paid 15 million dollars for sinking the Alabama.

Tried to hold the Alaska seals waters after we bought Alaska, drove our credit down to 33 cents on the dollar at the close of the revolution.

This is the English idea of democracy.

No Equal Rights With Women

If a policeman were to arrest in San Diego all those women who walk about the streets in pants and men's clothing he would lose his job. But after all the hullabaloo about equal rights among the sexes the San Diego police arrested a man who was doing no harm to anybody, because he wore women's clothes.

Why such idiotic discrimination? What is sauce for the goose should be sauce for the ganders, too.

Man Clad As Woman Arrested Here

A prettied face turned a policeman's head—much to the sorrow of Homer Haurigan, 37-year-old carpenter who couldn't resist a 29-year longing to dress in women's clothing.

Haurigan, clad in a striped housedress, women's hose and shoes, and with rouged lips and powdered cheeks, was sitting in a car near Fairmount ave. and Federal Blvd. when Police officers Peter Braisted and True L. Bosler passed by.

Given Suspended Sentence

Unable to make out whether it was a "her" or "him" behind the wheel, the officers investigated. They brought Haurigan to jail on charges of disorderly conduct, a charge which later in the day netted the capricious carpenter a $25 fine and a suspended jail sentence in Judge Clarence F. Terry's municipal court.

War is a hideous thing for young and old,
Degrading all of us a thousand fold.
Until stamped out and banished from our sight,
We cannot posibly in Him abide.

He who is love and peace does not approve
That we play "Hell" on earth, & "raise the roof"
He wants us to behave as "Lamb and Dove"
Improving His good earth with our sweet love.

Until this task fulfilled, we search in vain
Through methods of brute force gladness to gain.
Not till we all obey none but—our heart,
We will by war and strife be torn apart.

Better Drivers Get More Gas Mileage

Some drivers get more miles per gallon of fuel than others can get with the same car, observes the Automobile Club of Southern California. The difference is due largely to driving habits, it is stated.

One of the many ways to waste fuel is to press the accelerator to the floor boards at frequent intervals. Many motorists do this while the car is stopped and waiting for a signal to turn. Others do it while climbing a grade or when trying to gain momentum quickly.

Another common fuel wasting practice is to drive rapidly until close to an intersection and then apply the brakes vigorously. This is also hard on brake linings.

Probably the most common cause of low gas mileage is excessive speed. Gas consumption increases rapidly when a car is driven beyond a reasonable speed.

MOTOR FUEL HOME-MADE

Thousands of motor vehicles in England are using home-produced fuel for their operation, according to a report from the Ministry of Transport received by the Automobile Club of Southern California. They include steam vehicles, those running on producer gas, and others which employ coal gas for their operation.

GO EASY ON BLOWOUT

In the event of tire blowout, do not jam on the brakes suddenly, cautions the emergency service department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. Brakes should be applied cautiously, with the steering wheel held firmly in both hands until the car is brought under control. Sudden and severe application of the brakes when a blowout occurs may cause the car to swerve and overturn.

PUT OUT YOUR ARM !

One of the most important uses of an arm signal is when turning into the line of traffic from a parking space, points out the Automobile Club of Southern California public safety department. The danger of being struck by approaching vehicles when no signal is given is imminent.

Lost Cities of America

High in the Peruvian Andes, a scientific expedition has pulled back the veil covering the face of the long distant past with the discovery of the ruins of two ancient Inca cities. This, say members of the expedition, promises to uncover "an enormous empire of the pre-Inca races" and yield clues to the ancient Indian civilization of South America. The ruins of these lost cities, found buried in a forest 12,000 feet above sea level, are said to rival in magnitude the great pyramids of Egypt. For the beginnings of its own civilization, this Western hemisphere must look to Mexico and to the South American continent where cities, in culture, arts, handicrafts, architecture and mathematics, reached a high peak of development long before the pillaging conquistadores of Spain set foot in the Western world. As yet, comparatively little is known of these ancient Indian civilizations, or how or why they vanished, but thanks to continuing explorations, the Americas' past is being recaptured and made known to all.

California Opens Fire

Turning from words to deeds, the Council of State Governments at its fifth general assembly at Washington, D. C., has launched a clear-cut program to eliminate the trade barriers which since early depression years have hindered commerce, fomented ill-will and foolish interstate tariff wars.

California, to its credit, is preparing to open fire on these blockades. Already in the State Assembly is a bill providing for full and complete reciprocity for all foreign commercial vehicles entering California, provided the vehicle is registered within five days.

The Western states are a natural economic unit within the bigger unit of the nation. It is only common-sense that neighbor states who must have commerce with each other in order to survive and prosper—as the Founding Fathers themselves insisted—should not tolerate tariff walls, customs fees, or any other handicaps which inflict injury upon all.

The "come-in-and-get-out" permit issued at the port of entry station to an out-of-state machine overlooks the fact that the visiting passenger car or commercial carrier contributes to highway funds on a mileage basis in fuel purchased, and equally promotes not only trade but good will among states and a sense of that solidarity which united states should have.

California's measure to ensure full and complete reciprocity to the motor transport vehicles of other states which similarly honor California's, is an important step in the drive to restore to its full vigor the world's greatest free trade area, the United States of America.

Millions In '41

As a stellar attraction in the cast of scenic states which hotly compete for tourists' favor, California has reason to look with optimism on the summer ahead. Virtually all travel experts are unanimous in declaring this year's touring tides will sweep as high as, if not higher than last year's when all travel records were broken. Barring a major change in America's foreign relations, California can prepare to dust off an extra-size welcome mat to greet her hosts of visitors, old and new, come the summer of '41!

"Shots" Cure No Colds, Says Doctor

"There is no proof that 'shots' taken to immunize one from bad colds are effective," Dr. E. H. Christopherson said at the annual public health education program sponsored by the Woman's auxiliary to the San Diego County Medical association in the Y.W.A.

The physician answered questions on a panel with Drs. John C. Holman jr. and John F. Jopling.

Questions Varied

The doctors said that the best preventives in the matter of colds are to stay clear of those infected, to live a temperate life, and to get necessary exercise, rest and proper food.

Pledge To Safety

After two years crowned with high success in cutting her traffic fatalities, a backsliding California has ruefully watched that grim toll start mounting during the last twelve months.

In the opinion of the State Motor Vehicle Direcotr, California's 1940 record is disgraceful—3050 dead, 50,000 injured. This is the stark casualty list of victims cut down by carelessly or drunkenly driven vehicles which, for sheer destructiveness of human life, compete fairly evenly with the murderous violence of Europe's raiding bombers.

Since super-highways, freeways, safety education, and the ingenuity of highway engineers have fallen short of success, California can lose nothing by giving serious consideration to State Senator Robert W. Kenny's unique safety proposal. Senator Kenny has introduced a measure making it mandatory for all persons to take a solemn oath, pledging themselves to the cause of safe driving, before they can secure a license.

It is true, of course, that to some persons a solemn pledge means little. Yet there are, fortunately, a great number of persons to whom a pledge of honor means something. An oath, acknowledging their grave responsibilities as motorists and the necessity of safe and sane driving, would constitute a moral obligation that now—in the matter-of-fact routine of getting a license—is totally lacking.

The Legislature should give earnest consideration to Senator Kenny's proposal. In view of California's high traffic fatality rate, a solemn pledge to uphold the commandments of safe driving would hardly seem out of order.

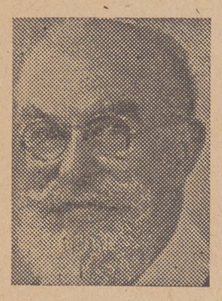
HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

COLITIS and NERVOUS DISORDERS

Many years ago the President of one of the largest flour-milling concerns in America called on me. He said he wanted to arrange a satisfactory cash basis for me to write popular articles for the magazines, telling of the value bread was to the public's health. I told him I would not charge a cent, if he would have published what I wrote. I told him that I had seen "modern milling" in the largest mills of this country before and after the "modern steel cutting" took the place of the old-fashioned stone-grinding mills. He told me that the public demanded certain types of flour and modern selling demanded a flour that would keep in hot countries, etc., etc. I told him the "public" demanded what propaganda choked down their innocent throats.



Dr. Geo. Starr White

We discussed the different methods of milling and the sale of the by-products that did not go into "modern flour". He had to admit that the "by-products" gave them the big profits of the modern-milling business. "Flour" really was the "side-line".

H e tried to explain to me of the millions and millions of persons who lived almost entirely upon bread with some kind of a spread on it and some kind of a drink "to wash it down". I told him that made it all the more important that flour should contain all that Nature put into the grain to maintain a balanced life-giving ration. He smiled and made the moth-eaten remark: "Well, business is business".

I tried to tell this "big-business" man that "debilitated flour" could make only "debilited bread", and that "debilited bread" could make only debilited persons who lived on such bread. I explained that COLITIS was almost a sure result of eating modern bread, because the vitalizing elements were lacking, while bulk was increased. The result was increasing debility with increasing work to be done!

I tried to make it plain that debilited intestins made inflamed intestins, which was COLITIS, and that COLITIS was a forerunner to practically all nerve disorders, including INSANITY!

This very wealthy miller summed the matter up as follows: To be in business we have to meet competition. If the Federal Government will not control the milling business, so ALL have to make flour at the same expense, then the ones who can make the most out of their by-products can have the most to spend on advertizing and "educating" the public so as to suit their methods. He also summed up health of the public as many big business men do: Organized Medicine is organized to make the public sick, and if debilitated bread will not make them sick, then some other stuff, such as candies, and beverages, and smokes, will be widely advertised to meet the "requirements of the Medical Gangsters".

My readers may say that this big business man was an exception, but I tell you that he is not. To do BIG business one has to follow the least resistance; and to make that resistance weak, cunning illustrations and writings are thrust before the public, while the radio grinds out its death-dealing fumes to deaden the ears to all that's good and helpful. All this propaganda is carried out in such a cunning manner that the very thing that is seemingly condemned, is cunningly condoned and encouraged.

I am now told that owing to the increasing numbers of insane persons, the "deficiency elements" in "modern bread", as well as in many other articles used as foods, are to be substituted and that "doctored flour" and other "revamped bases" for foods are to be put on the market as a "war measure". This will allow of more and more denaturing of the average person's foods. I shall not explain the increasing amount of poisons that are being put into the popular "drinks and smokes". All seems to be a prearranged plot to demoralize the health of the public and to weaken their minds, as opium and other pain-relieving drugs do.

DOPED BREAD TO BE MARKETED

'Vitamin' Filled Flour Soon Will Be Put Into Production in United States

PHILADELPHIA,—As an 'aid to the national health', an 'enriched flour' for making bread soon will be put into production.

The flour, 'enriched' by new milling processes or by adding essential 'vitamins' to devitalized white flour, has been approved by the national research committee on food and nutrition. It is designed to provide 'vitamins' for about 45,000,000 of this country's citizens.

Title May Be Official Dope

Bread made from the new flour will be called "enriched bread", a name decided upon by the American Medical Association, the milling industry, bakers, and federal authorities. It is likely the title will be made official by the United States Food and Drug Administration, in Washington.

Nicotin Drugged Bread

Included in the new flour will be three substances—thiamin, nicotinic acid, and iron, plus the vitamin ribo-flavin. Thiamin and riboflavin can be added to the ordinary white flour without any change in taste or color.

Price of the flour will be increased by about 50 cents a barrel, or three cents for a 12-pound sack. This will mean an increase of less than two-tenths of a cent in the cost of a pound loaf of bread, so likely the retail price of "enriched bread" may be kept the same as that of ordinary bread.

Product Creamy Dope

The new 'enriched' flour may also be made with the thiamin, nicotinic acid, and iron content from high quality vitamin wheat by modification of the milling process. This product will have a creamy color instead of the snowy white texture of the flour used today. Enriched flour made in this way can be sold without any increase in price.

A large increase in the price of the new bread and flour would defeat the purpose of the change, because those who most need vitamins are those least able to spend more money for food. Well-to-do persons can provide for a lack of vitamins by eating more meats and vegetables or taking vitamin chemicals in the form of pills.

Editor's Note: Vitamins are not produced by doping devitalized flour, nor are they contained in 'vitamin' chemicals. Only natural fruits and vegetables produce health and enrich life.

Britain Pays Children For Gathering Herbs

LONDON,— The progress of the war has cut off the supplies of many of the medicinal plants on which British doctors and chemists rely for many of their prescriptions.

Children throughout Britain are being recruited to revive a centuries-old British industry—the collection of herbs and plants used in the preparation of medicines. They will be paid according to the amount they collect.

They will receive as much as $100 a hunderweight for camomile flowers down to $2 a hundred-weight for oak bark. The nettle harvest will realize $10 a hundred-weight and dandelions $17.50 a hundredweight.

A LAWYER'S OPINION

Lawyer Selig Kaplan recently made the following remark: "If your son is being drafted into the army there is nothing in the National Draft Law which requires him to submit to involuntary compulsory vaccinations or inoculations of animal matter. To force a draftee to jeoparadize his life and health to line the pockets of the serum trust violates the rights guaranteed to an individual under our federal constitution.

This is the intrepid lawyer who has been exposing the highly advertised rabies in Brooklyn. An illuminating smile came over the face of the court when Kaplan recently gave a detailed description of that delightful quack antirabic mixture.—The Truth-Teller.

Dangers of Enforced Medication

(Prepared and Read at AMLL Convention in Chicago)

The subject on which I was to speak was, "Dangers of Enforced Medication". To be plain I will state that Medicine is "the science which relates to the treatment and alleviation of dishealth, to cure, to make sound, to make free ease". (Webster)—a healing agent; to restore to health, to cure, to make sound, to make free from bodily pain or disease.

The material that is used to inoculate by force has just the opposite effect. It causes disease. That which is being enforced (falsely called scientific medicine) causes sickness and disease . . . cripples and kills. As proof, I will tell of two specific cases, and there are untold thousands of cases.

Mr. Mike Greco, 2322 Federal street, Youngstown, Ohio, had 7 children vaccinated (inoculated) for smallpox, with vaccine virus or cowpox and he came very near losing them all as the result of the vaccination, five died and the grave was dug for the sixth child & the seventh child was very low. Mr. Greco had 18 doctors and four nurses in his efforts to save his seven children, but five died. Three of Mr. Greco's children that he refused to have vaccinated and have not been vaccinated, these three children are in good health, and he had no trouble with them.

The second case is that of Mr. John Marsh's brother, who had two girls go blind from vaccine virus and one is dead from it, the vaccine virus caused their eyes to swell up in their heads and burst, leaving only the empty eye pits. Death for one and perpetual night for the other girl as the result of cowpox vaccination or inoculation.

What is this vaccine virus that is killing, crippling, and diseasing millions, both children and adults? "Vaccine Virus is a mixture of human and animal syphilis, and is stronger and more deadly than human syphilis.—Dr. H. M. Allison." "Vaccine—the virus of cowpox —Steadman's Medical Dictionary". Cow-pox is composed words, cow and pox. No need to define a cow, but pox is the common or vulgar name for syphilis. "Pox—vulgarly, syphilis," so say Gould's Quains, and Steadman's Medical Dictionaries. "Innoculation—the act of introducing the virus of a disease into the body. Specifically, the intended introduction of a virus for the purpose of producing a mild form of disease which is severe when spontaneously introduced, as the inoculation of smallpox virus; this is known as preventive inoculation."—Bould's Medical Dictionary. Thus we find that vaccine virus or cow-pox is the disease producing pus or matter taken from a cow that is diseased and rotting with syphilis, and when the doctor inoculates you with this filthy pus, he intends to give you smallpox or small syphilis but no one can tell what disease will follow the inoculation of cow-pox.

Vaccine or cow-pox sometimes rots the lungs and this is called tuberculosis, from the T. B. corpse the pus is taken and these so-called medical scientists claim they take the germs out of the T. B. pus and inject them into the cattle under the name of tuberculin and claim they are testing the animals for tuberculosis, when as a matter of fact disease is being planted in the cattle to be passed on to human beings, through the milk, butter, meat, ice cream, cheese etc. All this is done to make business for serum makers and their pus squirting salesmen, the so-called medical doctors.

You do not think M. D.'s would be guilty of anything like I have written? Well then just listen to this: "But how, it may be asked, can good results accrue to an individual through the willful introduction into his system of the germs of disease?" Miracle of Science, page 210. "Without them (the germs) we should not have our epidemics, but without them we (the M. D.s) should not exist. Without them (the germs) it might be that some individuals would live a little longer. It is true that bacteria (or germs) by producing disease once in a while cause the premature death of an individual; once in a while, indeed, they may sweep off a hundred or a thousand individuals." Story of Germ Life —page 196.

In the World war, more than seven times as many soldiers died of disease as died in battle. (Pittsburgh Press, 3-26-40). Resolved—That we write, wire or phone our respective Congressman, Senators and President, to help protect our young conscripts, from forced inoculation or immunization treatments.—Dr. H. M. Allison, —The Truth-Teller, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Good THOUGHT

Good WORD — Good DEED

"He Was Transparent"

("Freely ye have received, freely give.")

(Concluded)

After many days of weary and arduous travel, through the most precipitous and mountainous districts, through forestlands, deserts, snow and ice-fields, in every altitude, high and low, and in every kind of storm, mist and fog, the cavalcade of pilgrims neared their destination, and the Community, where the great Gahanbar was to be held.

To-morrow would see the travellers safely housed in their palatial quarters, and Royal hospitality showered upon us was our master's boyish thought. He was weary and travel-worn, tired beyond fatigue, and in very delicate health. They had walked all the way, nearly 1,800 miles, overcoming distances so vast and difficult that one danger after another had become common occurrences, and space was only realized in Time.

But before arriving safely, they had still one more River to cross. But lo and behold! the river was in flood, turbulent, and the bridge had been washed away. There was nothing for it but to make a raft, and all dangerously cross that way. This they did.

"How happy and comfortable we would be, to have a bed to rest upon and to call our own, and to have good food nicely prepared and fine clothing to put on." Wet and in rags, this was our Master's anticipation, on arrival. Again, he was disappointed. The Patriarch told him he would have to use the clothes he had, and to prepare himself, and to look his best next day. That night, Master said he spent patching up his old, dilapidated rags, very much aggrieved to be so put to it, after all he had gone through, with weeks of fatigue and travel, and untold dangers.

"Well," he said, "we made the best of a bad job, and early next morning, after our final night of toil, at least clean and well-mended, we took our seat, which was at the front, "all eagerness and filled with wonderful hopes of Gahanbar ideals".

The place, or Temple, was filled with Pilgrims from many lands. The High Altar was ablaze, and like eastern shrines had its Temple Door encrusted with gold and studded with jewels and precious stones. This door was covered by a curtain, or Veil.

While gazing at the beauty of it all, suddenly the Veil was drawn atwain and out stepped a most patriarchal-looking man, resplendently robed, and magnificent to behold.

Then, in forty-nine different languages, this man said, what in English would be the equivalent of "A stich in time saves nine." He bowed, and disappeared through the door he had come by; when the Veil was again drawn, and that seemed to end the proceedings.

"Had we," said our Master, "fasted 40 days and 40 nights, immersed ourself in that ice-cold water three times, walked 1,800 miles, and rafted our poor, tired body across that roaring, torrential river; and then sat up most of the night stitching our old rags, to be simply and only told, 'A stitch in time saves nine'? But all our life, ever since, 'Do it now', and 'Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day', has been our motto and resolve."

When we, Guromano, first heard of this Gahanbar admonishment, we smiled, and felt for the youthful feelings of the Blessed Master, but we too said to ourself: "We shall take the story to heart, and never henceforth defer what can advisedly be done at once." It was a Sunday morning, at the "Northern Stronghold", Montreal, when we so listened, and determined. Then, Master turned, and looking at us very pointedly said, sotto voce, or in a whisper, "He was Transparent". That was a most thrilling moment, and Realization of many things became clearer. —British Mazdaznan Magazine.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

Frank Knox, newspaper and political expert, and head of the Navy, says he doesn't know how much British aid will cost; But 'would pay a billion to stand off their defeat'.

Ingersoll

Does he mean for three weeks—which their authentic statement gives as the time a billion would last, at the rate they are now spending? From other experts (who have so put Lindbergh to shame in their testimony) this gamble of appeasement to the war-god (not Hilter) runs as high as 7 billion. This would put off the evil day 20 weeks' while Landon would extend it only about three months.

The inner skeleton of war is exhibited by chairman Fisher, of Barclay's Bank, London, now among the many 'envoys' visiting us. The current theory of war finance, and especially inflation, is that bond selling and taxation will offset themselves in inflated prices; and therefore it is only the real money out of the masses' stockings—that will serve war needs. If we could only get this picture before every face in the U. S. A., as the brass tacks admission of war finance, would we then favor going in?

You didn't know that Thomas Jefferson organized the Republican as well as the Democratic Party, and that he was not satisfied with either?

"Everywhere in the World"

Editor of the Broom:

Certain Utopian minded people are promoting the idea that the New Deal must extend its ministrations to the far corners of the world and shelter everybody beneath its benevolent branches. Our Uncle Sammie will be expected to act as a glorified world policeman, aided and abetted by Brother John Bull.

Unfortunately, this idealistic theory, when dissected, is about as visionary as the desert mirage, inasmuch as there are hundreds of millions of people who are not even remotely interested in the New Deal, or British imperialism for that matter.

India alone, with over 300 million souls, rejects not only our so-called Democracy but our religion and would like nothing better than to discard the English yoke. An eventual uprising would occasion no surprise, in which case this Nation would no doubt be expected to make still another attempt to "make the world safe for Democracy" by backing Britain with our money and men.

Many believe that charity should begin at home and that we should reform ourselves before attempting to reform the world. Like Washington and Jefferson they hold the opinion that we should mind our own business and not become entangled in foreign affairs. The founder of Democracy said, "For us to attempt to reform all Europe and bring them back to principles of morality and a respect for the equal rights of nations would show us to be only maniacs of another character."

Norfolk Choice As Port Of Departure

WASHINGTON,— The navy plans to build a $400,000 base near Norfolk, Va., for a "large number of expeditionary landing boats in connection with expeditionary force preparations," it was disclosed.

The disclosure was contained in a report by chairman David I. Walsh (D-Mass) of the senate naval affairs committee on a naval authorization bill approved by the senate.

There was no detailed explanation as to the number of boats involved or the meaning of "expeditionary force preparations."

OPEN FORUM

Editor, The Broom:

Forest Warren, recently in the Little Theater, Russ Auditorium, featured the tempo of the press and his own observations. The audience was not fully in accord with his talk.

Little was advanced about newspaper open Forums. Anyone with a long and varied experience in writing for them knows there are only a few papers which publish letters as written.

Editors are controlled by the business end within and without the papers, hence garble or totally ignore sincere and justifiable contributions which may hurt or do displease pressure groups, especially women's organizations. Editors know that economic experts say 85 per cent of purchases are made or controlled by women; witness frequently 12 pages devoted to women in single issues which could be condensed to one page.

Forum columns should be untrammeled. Under the bugaboo of libel, editors manhandle truthful copy. The London Times, England, for generations has published letters the counterpart of the incendiary language of Hyde Park, despite libel laws more stringent than ours.

Our newspapers need a Thomas Paine, an Ambrose Bierce and a W. C. Brann who courageously wrote against wrong and injustice and spared neither state, church, law, medicine nor business when these channels became corrupt Newspapers exist by comunity patronage. Were there no buyers, for instance, of the dailies, the issues would cease, and the weeklies, practically the only papers daring to tell the truth irrespective of revenues and personal safety would justly thrive.

HEYDAY FOR REACTIONARIES

Preparedness activity makes a heyday for economic reactionaries and plutocrats. Under the guise of patriotism, centralizing control, and promoting efficiency, those who have monopoly and privilege seek to hold all they have and reach out for more. In order to get the job done, business is allowed to have its own way. Every effort to curb profit-taking is frowned upon, and those who make such efforts are called obstructionists. Honest persons are condemned for no other reason than that they object to gross profiteering. All this can be expected while we are in the fever of preparedness, and more so if the country goes to war. So it has been in every war or period of preparation for war.—Nebraska Union Farmer.

British "Democracy" Pays Starvation Wages

AVERAGE WEEK'S PAY $17; MORE DEMANDED BY BRITISH WORKERS TO MEET HIGHER LIVING COSTS

LONDON,—One million arms workers, on whom Britain is counting heavily, have asked their government, "How are we going to live on our wages?"—wages which average $17 a week. "We want a better deal now," they declared. "We don't want to wait until the war is over." Their demand for a wage increase of 5 cents an hour was heard behind closed doors. An official arbitration tribunal is considering the case. Final decision is not expected, however, until some time after another secret hearing, starting today, when shipbuilding workers ask the same increase. They, too, average about $17 a week.

Du Paul Announces Candidacy for City Atty

Favorable public reaction to the plan of Jean F. Du Paul, candidate for city attorney, to save more than $2,000,000 by refinancing the city's outstanding bonded indebtedness, was reported throuout the city this week.

After studying the problem from every angle, Du Paul has outlined a plan to take advantage of the current cheap money market, and refinance the city's bonds at a lower rate of interest, similar to the recent refunding of the San Dieguito water system.

Not only have a number of leading attorneys endorsed the Du Paul $2,000,000 refinancing plan, but numerous taxpayers have sent expressions of approval to the young candidate's headquarters.

"At last, I am gratified to find a camapign in which a candidate is actually proposing something workable and concrete to save the taxpayer's money, rather than ways and means of spending more of it," wrote one prominent local taxpayer.

A leading firm of bond attorneys upstate also has approved the feasibility of the plan, according to the statement made by the incumbent city attorney at the Republican Women's club meeting last week at Hotel San Diego.

Du Paul, who is available for speaking engagements, also is stressing the need for immediate development of San Diego county's water resources as a prime requisite of the national defense program. A long-time San Diego resident, Du Paul is also vice-president of the San Diego County Bar Association.

Preventing Boys from Earning a Living

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 12, 1941)

In times of war it is the young people who are being sacrificed; they have to do the fighting, get killed and crippled and bear the hardships at the front as well as pay the bills in increased taxes that outlast one generation and many times two and three generations. My two boys, David and Frederick, naturally are very much interested in what is going on. Fred is on this program tonite with me. He has some questions to ask and a few remarks to make. Here is Fred in person.

FRED—Good evening. I want to ask boys like myself to help me and help themselves by writing letters to Sacramento to prevent a proposed bill from being enacted, which would stop us boys who have paper routes from earning our own money. I am 13 years old and have a magazine route with the SATURDAY EVENING POST and LIBERTY, I also am helping David, my older brother to distribute the East San Diego Press and THE STATIC. He and I also work on THE BROOM, helping daddy. Together with mowing lawns for our neighbors I earn quite a little money each month, sometimes $15. I pay my own dentist bills, bought my bicycle, I also buy my shoes and clothes and pay $5 a month for my board. If the legislature passes a bill which will prevent boys like myself from distributing papers and magazines until we are 18 years old, it will destroy my business and I won't be able to buy my own clothes. If you look at me you would see that I am strong and healthy and working did not hurt me a bit. My school report is quite good, too, so nobody can say that I am neglecting school in order to make some money. I want to know what right the state has to keep me from earning what money I need to take care of myself, just because I am only 13 years old.

DADDY—What do you propose to do about it, Fred?

FRED—I am writing a letter to my assemblyman, Mr. Paul Richie, addressed to the Capitol, Sacramento, California and also the same letter to our State Senator, Ed Fletcher, as follows:

Dear Sir: I have heard that a bill is about to be passed by the legislautre, forbidding boys to sell newspapers, magazines, or distribute them from house to house, unless they are 18 years old. My brother David is 16 years old, I am 13. We have some paper routes and together we make at least $40 a month from which we buy our own clothes and pay other expenses. We are healthy and are not neglecting school. Why do you want to stop us from earning our money?

There are many boys like ourselves who are learning to do honest work while we are young. We want you to vote against that bill and give us a chance to be real Americans who pay their share as we grow up.

(Signed) David and Fred de Aryan.

DAD—That's a good letter, Fred.

Firemen's 29% Wage Raise

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, March 12, 1941)

In my broadcast, last Wednesday, I announced that I am still in court in an action against the City of San Diego to enjoin the City Clerk from placing the firemen's petition, for a 29% raise in wages, on the ballot. I am charging fraud in the circulation of that petition. Judge Haines gave me ten days in which to amend my complaint and when the time limit expired I asked for another ten days, since I discovered new legal points on which to perfect my attack. I shall file my amendment tomorrow and then we will have another hearing on the sufficiency of my complaint. If the court upholds me, we shall go to trial and examine witnesses. Perhaps you remember that Judge Haines ruled the last time, I would have to bring at least 10,000 witnesses into court. I discovered legal precedents where I don't have to do that and still be entitled to an injunction. This will be argued as soon as Judge Haines sets the time so that the city clerk may not be hampered with his work.

Frank C. Hughes

DAD—How did you enjoy the visit of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Hughes last Sunday?

FRED—You mean the man from Squirred Island who wrote HELL and AMEN?

DAD—Yes, did you have a good time?

FRED—He is a funny fellow. I showed him my model airplanes and how my gas motor runs. He admired my airplanes very much. And he showed us some magic tricks with cards and numbers after he had lunch at our house. Mrs. Hughes is quite a vaudeville actress, too. She played a piano duet with him and made us all laugh the way they interpreted some pieces of music. But they are leaving San Diego tomorrow, I think. I hope they are listening to this program.

Powers Reserved to the People

FRED—I read a letter in this week's BROOM from Mr. Herbert Heath of Hot Springs, New Mexico, where he says that Congress has no right to delegate powers to the president which the people never delegated to congress itself. What does he mean?

DAD—The U. S. Constitution defines the powers which the people delegated to the president and to the congress. They have no other powers. The people reserve all powers to themselves which are not delegated to its officials. For example, the people never gave power to congress or to the president to create an NRA. But congress just the same, enacted the NRA and gave powers to the President to put people in jail who refused to be regimented and dictated to under the NRA. Finally the supreme court ruled that it was all wrong and abolished the NRA. That is one example where congress delegated powers to the president to regiment industry when neither the congress nor the president has such constitutional powers. Mr. Heath wrote to his senator from New Mexico, Carl Hatch, warning him that congress has no authority to create a dictatorship in America because it violates the constitution.
